President's Corner

I received a flyer a few years ago about volunteering my time. My employer would even let us organize events where teams of employees would be paid (with limitations) for participating in organized group volunteering; like the Home Depot ads where gaggles of orange clad build a playground.

I never participated in the program. Selfish? Lazy? Maybe a little (or a lot) of both, but now that you know my qualifications I am about to solicit you to volunteer your time.

We have a shipmate in need. I received a message from a fellow Condor alum titled 'BLACKHAWK DOWN' advising me of the situation and requesting Blackhawk alumni assistance.

Commander Jim Cazier did tours in VP-68 and then VP-64. Jim, a non-smoker, contracted lung cancer and then experienced oxygen deprivation during surgery at Bethesda. Jim came out of surgery totally and fully disabled. Jim still possess all of his mental abilities but physically, his hearing is the only functional sense.

In one day, a young, active, sailor became (for all practical intents and purposes) immobile, incommunicado and blind. If you think that it couldn't be worse, they are; he can still hear and think so he knows just how bad thing just became.

What can we do? Volunteer. Once a week, once a month, once a year volunteer.

Have some "use or lose" vacation to burn? Heading down to the mall just to walk around and window shop? Just have to get out of the house when your brother-in-law visits? Drive over to the VA Hospital and read Jim the paper. Nothing fancy, just read him the paper or if you don't want to spring for a paper read him the jokes that you receive everyday in your e-mail. And don't forget the dirty jokes, he may be disabled but he is still a sailor.

Jim is in the Washington VA Medical Center.

There is a VA Medical Center near you. Each and every VA Medical Center has at least one veteran who would also appreciate hearing a few old jokes just waiting for you to drop by.

THE VEEP "SAYS"

I arranged a get together here at Pax for local former 68er's to have lunch. We used to do this on a regular basis and stopped. I am trying to get it moving again. Those attending were myself, Stripling, Russ Plunket, Bernie Conley, Ed May, Jacque LaValle, Kellie Gofus, and CW Furlow.

Had a good lunch, reminiscing and talking current events. A picture is enclosed for the next newsletter. I also passed out Spring Fling flyers for them to take and share. If you are in the Pax River area, give Lew a call and find out when the next lunch is scheduled.

Happenings

A bill (HR-3831) has been introduced by Representative Jim Saxton, (R-NJ) that would reduce the age at which a reserve component member may begin receiving retirement pay from 60 to 55. If enacted into law, the bill will take effect on the first day of the first month after the date of the enactment and would apply to retired pay payable for that month and subsequent months. A press release from Saxton's office can be found at: http://www.house.gov/apps/list/press/nj03_saxton/P020228Reserveage.html Maybe it is time to contact your representative and encourage them to support HR-3831!

Crew News

Pete Richard sends the following recommendations for sites to check. Have you seen these sites? Looks like the Navy is fighting hard to get MMA funding turned on. There is strong talk in congress of joining the Air Force Recce and Navy MPA missions onto a common platform. Have we been there before in our time?

Official Business

There's No Cold War Medal for Legal Wear on Uniform

The Department of Defense will not be creating a Cold War Service medal, and commemorative medals being sold by private vendors are not authorized for wear on military uniforms, defense officials have said.

"After careful consideration, it was decided not to create a medal," said Brad Loo, deputy director of Officer and Enlisted Management Personnel for the Office of the Secretary of Defense.

It's illegal to wear unauthorized medals on a military uniform. If you are interested in the "official site to apply for a Cold War Recognition Certificate" it is the Army's Web site at <http://coldwar.army.mil> and is the only "official" recognition allowed at this time. Sorry for the error but your editorial staff was caught up in the Internet announcements also.
